Funding Holds Up Cuca Creek Progress

By Jenny Kirkpatrick

Bureaucracy at its best is the way to describe the Cucamonga Creek Project as it stands today, according to officials who have battled the mountain of paper work and spent many hours cooling their heels in government offices waiting to testify in budget and appropriation hearings.

The officials appeared at a meeting of community leaders which was held at the Cucamonga school on Tuesday afternoon, July 15.

Attending were Dan Mikesell, board of supervisors; Art Sidler, county flood control engineer; and M. A. Nicholas, chief engineer, county flood control.

They did not hold out much hope for immediate projects to get underway, but did bring the people up to date on what has happened so far in getting the money just for rehabilitation of the Cucamonga channel.

The story really begins back in 1954 when Dan Mikesell and others first proposed the Cucamonga Creek project. At that time the national government was receptive to large flood projects that seemed tied together and the county submitted a project that encompassed Cucamonga Creek, Lytle and Warm creeks, Upper Warm creek, Deer, Day, East Etiwanda, and San Sevaine creeks into it, simply because without this so called "umbrellaing" of the creeks, the cities that bounded these areas would never be wholly safe from floods.

It was not until 1968 that the project was even authorized and this was after years of appearing before Senate sub-committees in Washington, D.C. and tons of supporting data being presented, according to the county officials.

Authorization of a project does not mean that it is funded or the money is available; it simply means the government sees the need for the project and says so. The battle now raging is to get the funding passed by the senate and house, so the project can begin.

The government does not want to allot money for doing anything now but restoring the channels since additional work would call for it all being torn out at the time of the "big" project, the official said.

It is a see-saw discussion about getting enough funds on an emergency basis to rehabilitate the channels, and put them back to the condition they were in before the flood, they added.

Mikesell told the people that the situation was really two-fold. One, to get the necessary repairs and restore the channel to pre-flood condition, and two, to push for the funding for the "big" project.

The people in Cucamonga are most interested in getting the channel restored to pre-flood conditions at this time and then to seeing the overall project completed.

Since January, Mikesell, Nicholas, and Ruben Ayala, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and Congressman Jerry Pettis, have been in Washington on numerous occasions to testify before the Senate sub-committees in an effort to get emergency funds for the restoration of the channel.

Nicholas told the Cucamonga group at the school:

"The Congressional Committees were very courteous and said they agreed with us that the money was needed, but there are other priorities that need money first, namely the war effort, which has number one priority at the present time.

"The Congressmen and Senators from the state have done all they can to get public works projects underway, the approval of money at this time is difficult at best.

"Even the state agrees Cucamonga is first and when monies are available, we'll get them, but don't hold your breath," he

"The $30 million given by the federal government will go for city streets and nothing more," Nicholas said. "Out of the $90 million dollars given by the state, the best we can get is 30 cents

Nicholas said, "Out of the $90 million dollars given by the state, the best we can get is 30 cents on the dollar."

He told the group of his frustration with the amount of paper work and bookkeeping problems.

"I have had 118 lbs, of paper to process and it gets ridiculous, I would rather just have the money," he commented.

Sidler took a more optimistic view on flood control, "The county expects to get $3.6 million to restore the channel and so far $1.8 million has been approved.

He reported that some work had already begun on the channel, "Debris has been removed in some areas and the channel walls of dirt restored with riprap (stone facing cemented together).

Mikesell commented, "We'll be lucky to get the money for restoration in less than three years,"

The men agreed it would take approximately one-half million dollars more to restore the channel. If the Corp of Engineers approve the plans, then some of the work for restoration can get underway by the end of August and be finished by the late fall.

Mikesell told the group that fighting a congress with a "closed up purse strings" was getting tiresome. "If we could just get the money, the project could get underway by 1974 and it will start with Cucamonga channel, and in the San Antonio Heights area," he said.

He told of the frustration in dealing with the federal government. "I get almost violent when I realize that some farmers in Bakersfield get $2 million dollars for not planting cotton, and we can't get the money to build safe flood control channels."

He asked the group to continue with the petitions that area clubs headed by Alta Loma-Cucamonga Women's club, under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Adkins, and the Alta Loma-Cucamonga Junion women have under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Martz, which have been circulating in the area. The petition asks for the federal government to allot $600,000 for the restoration of the Cucamonga channel. Other organizations have also participated

"I haven't told you anything new," Mikesell said. "Maybe the federal government will listen to the people, at least it's worth a try," he added,

He Came

Efrem Zimbalist, Jr.

He hung over the roof of a building, posed to jump, the crowd gathered below was quiet and nervous, the building was tall; if he missed his mark, he might get hurt. He jumped, hung by his fingertips at the edge of the building and then fell.

By Jenny Kirkpatrick

The crowd gasped as he bounced on the rubber mattress wedged between the buildings. They held their breath while he slowly got up, shaken, with blood trickling down his wrist onto his hand. He smiled. The crowd cheered.

The man was Tom Barth, a stunt man who had just completed his assignment for the "Designates," a story in the series of the weekly FBI TV shows. The story was being photographed in Upland.

It was now late afternoon; it was hot and the crew had put in many long hours since the time many long hours since the time they started in the early coolness of the morning at city hall.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and his partner, Bill Reynolds, were crawling over the roof of the dilapidated building. This was supposed to be a small town in Ohio: it was Upland.

They looked disheveled, but not disheartened, this was their work and it took serious concentration, especially since the crowd gathered wherever they went.

We Saw

ALL IN STRIDE They all took it in their stride.

In fact, one of the notable things about the whole crew, was the friendly attitude. The only time they were strict was when the bell rang and they asked everyone to be quiet until it rang again. This was during actual shooting. The crowd cooperated.

MOVE SLOWLY The day-long shooting process was slow and the last scene wasn't finished until the early evening.

The story started at city hall, which bore the sign "Fidelity Trust Co." It was supposed to be a town in Illinois. The actors went in and out of the building and the extras walked the streets; cars with Illinois plates drove by. It looked very real.

The crew then moved to Second avenue where a newsstand wasset up. This was Ohio now, and a small panel truck said Ohio News Tribune on it. The scene was shot many times, this was the pattern of the day -- over and over again. A spell of adjusting, conferring and re-shooting. It went slowly and re-shooting. It went slowly.

A quick curbside conference revealed that this is how they shoot a series. A crowd gathered and left, but another crowd took its place.

As it got hotter, the crew were friendlier and were good about volunteering information. In several curbside interviews, the following information was gleaned:

There were seven trucks of

assorted sizes, two catering trucks and one first aid-ambulance with a doctor aboard. He treated Tom Barth's minor cuts.

There were many big lights and reflectors that added to the already heated day. There were chairs, long and tall and short and fat, an abundance of mikes and camera equipment. "Did the crew like to eat?" the caterer was asked. "Yes," and they ate anything served them. "No, Efram didn't have any favorites, he just liked food."

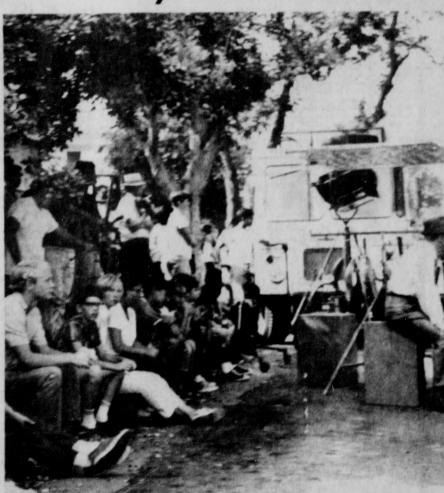

The caterers served nourishing meals and sometimes even homemade baked goods, or tucked in a food, a surprise for the crew.

"Why all the people manning the equipment?" There were about 75 workers in addition to the extras and stars. The reason, everyone is a specialist. For instance, on a camera — the head cameraman, the assistant, the man who takes the pictures, the two men who wind film, and on and on.

The extras took all the waiting good naturedly. They pointed out the different people who were on the show, and gave a running commentary. Some of them were really much more interested in Upland and the people.

It was all in a day's work for the crew; it was a day to remember for Upland. The show will be on in November. You can bet this is one TV show when Uplanders will be glued to their TV sets.

They Televised

KIBITZERS -- Uplanders gather on the sidewalk across from city hall to watch the filming of a segment of the TV show the FBI. The crew, including the star, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. were in Upland Monday photographing scenes for a forthcoming show, "The Designates". It will be shown in November.

Still Waiting?

It has been six months since Upland and Cucamonga faced the frightening floods of January and February.

Today, the sun shines and the need to "do something" about re-storing the channels and repairing roads and homes doesn't seem to be as important any more.

At least that is what the feeling is of the people who suffered the damage. That is what they are saying about the constant delays by the Federal Government.

As with many things these days, those that get hurt the most can least afford it, either monetarily or personally. Many small homeowners and businessmen in Cucamonga cannot get loans on their damaged property and cannot get damage repaired.

Many feel discouraged and frustrated and leave their homes to rot. They still must pay for them as they have received no help from the Federal Government.

Upland, thanks to a far-sighted civil defense program, was able to escape the floods with a minimum of damage, but not Cucamonga. If you were there during the floods or have seen any part of it recently, not much has been done.

Why? It certainly is not the fault of the Board of Supervisors, the County Flood Control, the cities involved or congressmen and senators who represent our district for the state.

Who is it then; the Federal Government, that's who.

There is very little money alloted to public works at home. The money is going to foreign countries.

The Cucamonga project has been under study for 15 years. It's time it was finished before another rainy season begins for the next time many lives may be lost.

There are really only two methods to get it built, raise the county flood tax, from 20 cents or get the Federal Government to allot the money.

The project has passed the Federal approval and authorization stage, but not the funding stage. This it must do.

The people in the area must take up the battle and make their wants known to the President and congress.

In Cucamonga, the Alta-Loma Cucamonga Women's Club has undertaken to start petitions and to inform the public and encourage their participation in getting the word to Washington, they are to be congratulated. This is the only way to get some things done.

This is exercising an American right by peaceful means and every one in Upland and Cucamonga should pitch in and help with

COMPLIMENT DEPARTMENT

Patrons, on the whole, aren't very receptive to another increase in postal rates. That's hardly a secret.

And it's no secret that complaints about the department are on the increase -- not decrease.

With that stone ball to buck, we feel it's time to pay tribute to our local postoffices when they merit it.

Recently in Montclair, Postmaster Tony Zangri chased down a letter which had been placed in a wrong box and held by a party for over a month. He recovered it, and it took a bit of doing.

Since the Mountain avenue off and on ramps have been closed down, we have encountered most lost travelers than ever.

Probably the Department of Highways would be rendering a ser-

That will give the West End three freeways, and it will boom the area and increase the population by leaps and bounds, no doubt. It has had similar effect elsewhere.

MOON EXCITEMENT Having always been a firm believer in settling the earth problems before we tackled outer space I have to admit the current moonshot is exciting.

To make it even more exciting, I was guest at the Upland Host Lions Club last week when a man from General Telephone, gave a graphic and colorful talk on what and how of moon shooting. I guess if you believe in the future and I do, one would have to acknowledge the imaginative scope of this whole idea. Everything is done on split second timing and the technological products and ideas that have helped launch a man on the moon is staggering.

It is even fantastic. Could it be that by going to the moon we will finally be able to solve some of our earth problems? The future will give us the answer and in the meantime, it doesn't hurt to be excited by the great scope of this venture.

MOONWALK

From the above item, you can see that I was only lukewarm to the idea of a man going to the moon, but I did have some excitement. This was all before the event happened. However, on Sunday, I did not turn the TV on and was merrily cleaning house when my 19-year-old son called and said the Astronauts were about to walk on the moon. "Okay," I said, "I hope they have a good time." "You are not going to watch it?" he said. Well, I must admit I did get the urge to take a peek. After all, I had sat on the running board of my father's Model T car and that was a first. And I did listen to a crystal radio set my dad built, and that was a first. So why not watch the moon walk? I turned on the set and before five minutes were up, I was hooked. The immensity of the whole thing suddenly hit me. These men were chatting back and forth just like this was an everyday occurrence and they sounded as if they were in the room instead of a million miles away. The suspense grew. It was quiet. When Astronaut Armstrong put his foot on the moon, I didn't say "oh," I was too awed.

Should you pay your carrier...

You don't have to. It's purely a matter for you to decide.

This newspaper is what is called in newspaper circles, a controlled circulation newspaper. There are dozens across the country-enough even to have conventions. The purpose of a controlled circulation newspaper is to provide local news, local service and local advertising to an important, independent, interested community which could not on its own support a daily newspaper.

But where does your carrier come in? He is paid a minimum allowance for delivering your local newspaper. He depends on you, really for his income, because when he collects, most of it is his. Controlled circulation newspapers work like that, on a voluntary pay plan.

We hope you appreciate and enjoy your newspaper enough to voluntarily pay your carrier. He is dependable. He is rendering you a service. He would like to earn the money. Pay him? Think about it.

Summer Camp For All Boys Hope Of Old Baldy Scouts

The Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of Amer-ica, is working with madifferent community agencies to get all boys, whether they are Scouts or not into camp this summer. Their Council camp is the Circle B Scout Ranch located in the So. Sierras, 185 miles from the Pomona Valley.

During the week of July 5-12, 16 non-Scouts from the Pomona Valley area attended camp and participated in an exciting and vigorous program of activities. Each week through the end of the summer, several non-Scouts are expected to be in camp.

The activities that the boys participate in in-clude swimming, boating and canoeing in and on the camp's lake, firing .22 caliber rifles on the approved NRA range under qualified supervision, learning the techniques of how to survive in the out of doors when lost, discovering many of the secrets of nature that cannot be observed on the city streets, hiking into the beautiful high Sierras to do a little fishing and many other activities that some boys dream about but never have the opportunity to Council Camping Chairman Warren Cli-burn stated that "both boys and parents alike are getting a great deal out of this program. The boys are learning and doing in a positive way and the parents are finding that their sons can do and accomplish many things ne-some good leadership and positive environment. We hope that all of these boys will come back home and join Scout troops in their neighborhood area," Cli-burn said. "Most of our Scout troops camp at least once a month all year round so a good camping ver thought possible with adventure does not have to stop when a boy comes home from camp."

For additional information on Scout or non-Scout camping, contact the Old Baldy Council Service Center at 626-3552 or 985-3011. Let's all go to camp this sum-

ORDINANCE NO. 306 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MONTCLAIR PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF A FEE AS A CONDITION OF AP-PROVAL OF A FINAL SUBDI-VISION MAP TO DEFRAY COSTS OF CONSTRUCTING PLANNED DRAINAGE FA-CILITIES AND FOR PROVID-ING FOR REIMBURSEMENT WITH AN OWNER OF LAND INSTALLING SUCH FACILI-TIES BY IMPOSING A CHARGE UPON PROPERTIES WHICH BENEFIT FROM

SUCH CONSTRUCTION The City Council of the City of Montclair does hereby or-dain as follows: Section 1. The Montclair Municipal Code is hereby amended by the addition of Chapter 8 to Title 6 entitled, "Drainage Facilities", to require the installation of drainage facilities for the removal of surface and storm waters from certain local or neighborhood areas as follows: CHAPTER 8. DRAINAGE FA-CILITIES

Sec. 6-8.01. Installation. The City may require an owner of land to install drainage facilities for the removal of surface and storm waters or may require the payment of a fee for purposes of defraying the actual or estimated costs of constructing such drainage facilities if:

(a) A drainage plan is adopt. ed by the City for a particu-1: drainage area and contains an estimate of the total cost of constructing the local drainage facilities required by the plan, and a map of the drainage area showing its boundaries and the location of the planned drainage facilities is on file;

(b) The costs of such drainage facilities are based upon findings by the City Council, that the sub-division and development of property within the planned local drainage area will require construction of the facilities described in the drainage plan;

(c) The fees are fairly ap. portioned within the local drainage area either on the basis of benefits conferred on property proposed for subdivision, or on the need for local drainage facilities created by the proposed subdivision and development of other property within the local drainage area;

(d) The fee as to any property proposed for subdivision within a local drainage area does not exceed the pro rata share of the amount of the total actual or estimated costs of all facilities within the local drainage area which would be assessable on such property if such costs were apportioned uniformly on a per-acre basis: (e) The drainage facilities planned are in addition to existing local drainage facilities serving the area at the time of the adoption of the drainage plan for the area.

Sec. 6-8.02. Fees. The fees required by the preceding Section 6-8.01 shall be paid in to a "planned local drainage facilities fund." A separate fund shall be established for each local drainage area. Moneys in such fund shall be expended solely for the construction or reimbursement for construction of local drainage facilities within the planned local drainage area from which the fees comprising the fund were collected, or to reimburse the City for the cost of engineering and administrative services to form the district and design and construct the facilities. Cash or other consideration may be accepted in lieu of the payment of fees.

Sec. 6 - 8.03. Reimbursement agreement. Where the owner of land is required by the City to construct drainage facilities having a greater capacity than would be required to serve his property, the City may enter into a reimbursement agreement with such land owner whereby the difference in the costs of the required facilities less the costs of an improvement required to serve the owner's land alone shall be collected from properties within the area which, in the opinion of the City Council, will benefit by such drainage facilities. Sec. 6-8.04. Plans and Specifications. Within thirty (30) days after execution of the reimbursement contract, the City Engineer shall pre-

Exam Set By State Patrol

"Young men who want action and have the ability to keep cool when others become confused, who want a fast-paced job with variety and are ambitious could well look toward the California Highway Patrol for their career.

This comment was made today by Captain Vernon F. Nicholson Commander of the California Highway Patrol's San Bernardino Area, in announcing that another examination for State Traffic Officer has been scheduled for August 16. "A California Highway

Patrolman's job is demanding one that requires among other things, a mature and clear thinking mind," Captain Nichol-son added. "The Patrol offers this kind of man good pay and an excellent future, if he meets all of our requirements and successfully passes the written and oralexaminations.

Basic requirements include age between 20 and 31 years, height between 5ft. 9 in. and oft. 6 in., a high school diploma or the equivalent, and good

Etiwanda In Dist. Semi's Thursday At Rialto Field

Manuel Moreno, Etiwanda pitcher, kept the wraps on host Cucamonga, Saturday as he lead his team into the District 21 semi-finals which starts today at Lilac Field in Rialto.

Moreno gave up only an infield single through the first five innings and then added the finishing touch as he faced a bases-loaded no out situation.

Jim Litchfield lined a drive at shortstop Peter Vasquez, who fired home. There was no out to be had there, but an alert

Brian Janes tossed to third baseman Steve Hargrave to double the runner off third and the relay to second caught yet another runner in the middle of the basepaths for a seldom-seen triple-

Moreno's work was made easy by homers off the bats of Joey Anguiano, Janes, Chris Lugo and his own, plus doubles by Vasquez and Mark Gibson and five In the first round of Upland's Area IV, District 21 all-star tournament, Foothill Little League won over American Little League by a score of 6-2. A capacity crowd of several hundred saw plenty of action as three balls went out of the park (one a grand-slam), double-plays, plus some brilliant fielding. The game was played at Gar Warder field, Upland, Friday, July 18.

Home team, Upland American, scored one run in the first inning on the first of 6 errors committed in the game. In the top of the second inning, 2nd baseman Tony Volpendesta slammed a homer with the bases loaded, following on the heels of a home run by Dale Wolfe, to give Foothill a 5 run lead.

Outstanding defensive play by the Foothill team saw Dale Wolfe on 3rd base catch a bunt fly off Mike Kenney and pick off the runner at first for a double-play, followed by a sensational onehanded catch by right fielder Rick Cairati, with runners on, for the

Foothill added one more run in the third inning for a total of while the only other run for Upland American came in the 4th inning with a home run by Ted Adams, left-fielder. Singles were garnered by Steve Springer and Bob Wright while Foothill's Mark Ricketts had a double and a single, John Pignotti, 2 singles, and Ken Weekes, Steve Schiro, Rick Cairati each a single.

On the mound for American was Bob Wright while Biggen Joe Raney and Mike Kenney caught, and for Foothill John Pignotti hurled the three-hitter with Steve Schiro's strong catching behind

In Saturday's game with Foot-hill meeting Upland National, Steve Schiro had a no-hitter going into the top of the 6th inning when Henry Anguiano, 2nd baseman, broke the pitching gem with a single into right center. The resulting run scored by Russ Feaster also broke a shut-out in this second play-off of Area IV, District 21 tournament.

Fine pitching by Ray Melen-drez and Rick Aleman, with Russ Feaster's catching for the Upland National, Steve Schiro's winning throws to John Pignotti provided the thrilling game which sends Upland Foothill to Rialto's Lilac park on Friday, July 25, to meet the San Bernardino-Rialto's San Ri Little League all-stars at 5:30 p.m.

Sup'r. Mikesell To Talk Before Two Committees

The National Association of County Officials will have their annual meeting in Portland, Ore-gon, from July 27-31. An expected 2,500 delegates from throughout the United States will attend this important conference.

Supervisor Daniel D. Mikesell of San Bernardino County has been asked to present a paper on two different subjects at this conference.

On Monday, July 28, he will be speaking to the delegration on aviation matters in the United States as they affect local government, inasmuch as he is chairman of the NACO Steering Committee on Aviation, he will be able to update what is happening on the national level concerning this most important segment of local government.

On Wednesday, July 30, Mikesell has been asked to present a paper on Regional Planning groups as they affect local government, As Mikesell is the President of the Southern California Association of Governments, consisting of 100 cities and six counties, and the largest regional planning agency in the U.S., he is expected to bring to the delegation the type of regional planning being accomplished locally that will serve to establish similar agencies throughout the coun-

Area Seniors Take College Work in Fall

Forty - five students from 15 local high schools will experience college course work for credit during their forthcoming senior year through a special early admissions program at California State Polytechnic Col lege, Kellogg - Voorhis, Pomona. The early admissions program is an outgrowth of a pilot effort two years ago involving five schools, according to Cal Poly Counselor Robert J. Winterbourne. Some 30 students from 13 schools participated last year.

To be accepted for admission, a student must have earned a 3.5 (B plus) high school grade point average in his sophomore and junior years and be recommended by his high school principal.

He must also be able to provide transportation to Cal Poly and to fit college work in successfully with his high school schedule of activities.

"The program in es sence serves the twin purposes of enrichment and acceleration, Win terbourne stated.

High school students may take up to six units per quarter during the school year and nine during the summer quarter.

By taking six units a quarter and nine during the summer, early ad missions participants may complete 27 units -more than half the approximate quarter units re quired for one year of Cal Poly work, Winter bourne pointed out.

The academic results and the personal responses of all participants have been most gratify-ing, Winterbourne commented, relative to program evaluation.

A highly successful academic experience was achieved by the group last year in earning a collec-tive mean GPA of 3.13

(B plus) for 247 units. And, comments by both students and counselors indicated the work at Cal Poly had a positive influence on the students' attitudes and per formances at their own high schools."

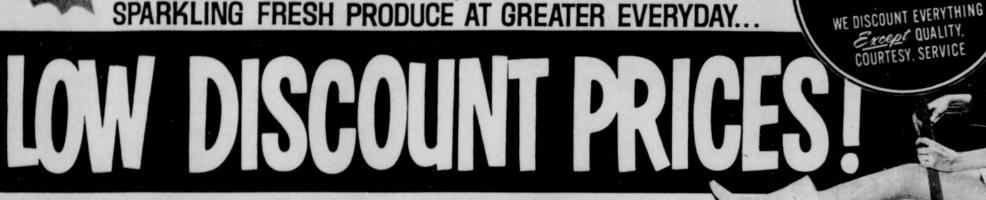

According to one student, "I have discovered that there is more res ponsibility in college work. You are expected to do most of the work outside the class. I am very anxious to begin college now. I feel that I have a very good idea of what to expect and of what is go-ing to be expected of me."

Eight students are currently enrolled in Cal Poly's summer quarter. They are: Edward Hanna and Stanley Sieler, Jr., Damien High School; Marcia Day and Linda Kay Dell 'Osso, South Hills High School; Mary Ge phart, Bonita High School; Russell Stevens, Claremont High School; Debra Allsup, Pomona High School; and Laura bee Mier, Western Christian High School.

Other high schools expected to participate in Cal Poly's early admissions program are Charter Oak, Covina, Edge wood, Ganesha, Garey, Montclair, Northview, Pomona Catholic, Royal Oak, and West Covina. Western Christian and Corona high schools have also been accepted for participation with special provisions.

SB Co. Receives $923,000

WASHINGTON, D.C. --A $923,587 federal grant funding the fight against poverty in San Bernardino County was announced recently by Congressman Jerry L. Pet-

"The funds, representing a $75,000 increase over last year's anti-poverty budget, were the full amount requested by the county's Dependency Prevention Commission" Pettis said. "Totaling nearly a mil-lion dollars, the grant will provide a variety of anti-povery activities in San Bernardino for over 90,000 people for a 12-month period."

Included in the program will be neighborhood information and recreation centers for 80,000 persons, prevocational development for 4500 persons, and summer activities for 4500 youths accompanied by 45 parttime jobs. Forty senior citizens will be able to benefit from senior

In addition to the menu of ice cream, homemade pies and cakes, coffee and punch, continuous enter tainment by prominent community soloists, instrumentalists, choirs and gospel singers from local churches will be provided.

On the program, announced to date, will be the Salvation Army Band, Johnny Aguilar, guitarist and singer; Rose Marie Curtis, vocalist; accom panied by Mrs. Cecil Goss, pianist. Don Wight will serve as master of ceremonies.

The aim of the community is to raise enough funds to complete payment to Mr. Rudolph Vargas for the traditional display of the Christmas Story on Euclid Avenue during the holiday season. The indebtedness

Mr. Vargas totals $2500 for the last two and final tableaux he has completed. Tickets (50 cents donation) may be purchased through church organizations or the Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

In the past, the Christ-mas scenes on Euclid Avenue have been paid largely form proceeds for ice cream socials, also by service clubs (Kiwanis and Soroptimist) and also individual donors. The first ice cream social was held in 1960 and was originated by the Ministerial Association and the Christmas on Euclidavenue committee as a means of raising funds for the purchase of additional tableaux depicting the birth and life of Christ.

WE Girl Scout Leaders Busy At Hideout Canyon

Fun in the out-of-doors and learning how to live comfortably in camp, is the basic program of a short term resident camp of the Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council at Hideout Canyon.

The summer camp is situated in the Big Dalton Canyon in Glendora, and is a good introduction to a resident camping for the 258 fourth and fifth grade Junior Girl Scouts who are attending through August 29, in eight fiveday sessions.

Mrs. Ronald Mac Callum of Whittier, Camp Director, states "Each session is divided into two units with highly recommended college women serving as unit leaders and assistants. Senior Scouts, who are Counselors-in-Training serve as program aides."

Montclair, Camp Cook, prepares most of the meals although occasionally, the units prepare their own. The girls sleep in the out-of-doors, participate in nature nikes, an all-day hike up the canyon to the dam and a funtime at the stream flowing by the campsite.

Each evening the hills come alive with the sound

Chaffey Board Studying Applicants For Vacancy

ALTA LOMA-The names of seven citizens have been submitted to the Chaffey College board of trustees for the board's consideration in appointing a successor to trustee Ralph H. Miller, who resigned June 17.

The board took the names under submission Tuesday and indicated it will give the question further consideration at an adjourned meeting Aug. 6.

In other action, the board authorized the administration to call for bids for installation of a third generation digital computer system to provide for instruction in advanced computer languages.

The college plans to begin such instruction in February 1970. Bids will be opened at the board's Aug. 6 meeting.

The board also authorized a change of title for K. C. Hinrichsen from administrative assistant to assistant superinten dent for personnel.

Hinrichsen was asked by the board to form a committee to prepare a policy for naming buildings and facilities at the

The question of establishing such a policy arose when the board received a petition asking that Chaffey college stadium be renamed in honor of the college's athletic trainer, the late Barl Sicosky.

Names submitted to the board include Erma Welsh of Upland, Joseph Leyva of Fontana, Rossi Elliott of Ontario, Dan Black of Upland, Jess Ochoa of Chino, Bernard Nelson of Fontana and Beverly Applehaum of Fontana.

Dr. Harry D. Wiser, college president, said the college is contacting the prospective board members and asking them to submit resumezof their background for the board's consideration.

Wiser added that other nominees for the post will be considered, but urged anyone whose name is submitted to indicate a willingness to serve and to submit a resume.

ABM Could Be Hot Political Issue

Our Man In Washington

By BILL KENNEDY Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, July 20 -- As this is written, debate on the Safe-guard anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system goes into its second week in the Senate. The issue is so fraught with controversy that it could be the determining factor in which party captures control of the Senate in next year's elections.

Because of the relation to these elections, a number of senators will not take a stand on ABM, some say they "lean toward" one side or the other, some say they want to see the proposal medified, and others say they want to study it more.

Generally, the senators who have taken a strong stand are those not up for re-election next year. The most ardent critics of the ABM, as proposed by President Nixon, are those who just won election last

Proponents of ABM say it will keep the country strong, deter nuclear attack by Russia, and place America in a stronger bargaining position to limit the nuclear arms

Bill Kennedy

OPPONENTS ANSWER Opponents answer that ABM will accelerate the arms race, might turn out to be useless in deterring nuclear attack, and that other national priorities should come first -- such as the war on

Regardless of the merits or demerits of the system, two voices seem to be coming through loudest -- Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, member of the Armed Services Committee, for ABM, and Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, against. Both are Democrats. Sen. Jackson's first task in his fight for ABM acceptance was to explode what he termed three "myths" concerning Russia -- that the Soviet Union is willing to live in peace with her neighbors, that the U. S. is always the first to develop new weapons, and that Americans and Russians mean two different things when they speak of negotiations.

RUSSIA INCAPABLE?

Fulbright has been getting across the idea, without really saying it himself, that Russia is incapable of a "first-strike" attack on this country, and that Russia probably has no intention of developing such a capability.

As to whether Russia is willing to live in peace, without designs of domination on other countries, Sen. Jackson points to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, and Russia's huge buildup of nuclear arms over the past several years. Jackson also points out that the Soviet Union, not the U.S., is the only nation to develop a 60-megaton bomb, is the only nation to build and install ICMBs of the SS-9 size and to be testing multiple warheads on them.

In answer to critics that ABM would accelerate the arms race, Jackson notes that Russia acted first to deploy ABMs, adding, "I have never heard one of these critics say that deploying its ABM system some years ago the Soviets were escalating the arms race. Jackson says Americans look to negotiations as a means of ending conflict, while the Russians see negotiations as a way of continuing ng conflict. Aside from Soviet intentions -- which is a debatable subject -- some senators object to ABM on other grounds. Fulbright says there is a "questionable need" for ABM, that its reliability and effective-Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas said he was "leaning toward"

ABM as an improvement in the nation's defense posture, but wants to be sure it is workable before spending billions on it.

Jackson's fellow senator, Warren Magnuson, has not spoken out against ABM, but sources said he doubts its reliability, and believes there are more important priorities -- and probably would vote

NEVADA SPLIT

While Sen. Howard Cannon of Nevada is against ABM and so voted in the Armed Services Committee, his colleague Sen. Alan Bible, is leaning in favor of it, although he has not taken a definite stand. In Texas, the senators are also split with Republican John Tower for ABM, and his colleague, Democrat Ralph Yarborough, on record against it. The same is true for California where Republican George against it. This is a pattern found in most states where there is one Republican and one Democratic senator. In Hawaii, for instance, Democrat Daniel Inouye is much opposed to ABM and Hiram Fong leans toward favoring the system.

Murphy favors it, and Democrat Alan Cranston has come out strongly

With Oklahoma, the divergence of views is only slightly different. Sen. Henry Bellmon, Republican, has given speeches favoring ABM. Sen. Fred Harris, Democrat, on the other hand, is more cautious. Harris is, he said, in favor of authorizing research and development of ABM, but not in its deployment because of technological uncertainties as to its performance.

At this time, it looks as though the ABM debate will continue until mid-August before it comes to a Senate vote. And while Defense Secretary Melvin Laird recently indicated the administration was unwilling to compromise, it seems some compromises will nevertheless be forthcoming, particularly on ABM deployment.

With all that is being said and written on the matter, it most likely will be a major issue in the Senate races next year and voters will be keeping track of how the incumbents voted.

Already, young George Bush of Texas, a Republican in the House, is being talked up as the man to unseat Democrat Sen. Yarborough. And Gov. Paul Laxalt, Republican, is mentioned as a front-runner to try and oust Democrat Sen. Cannon of Nevada.

Police-Youths Combine Efforts To Conserve Wonders Of Nature

BY JUDY JORDAHL

Twenty-nine out of 35 Pomona Police Explorers, boys from 15 1/2-18, attended a crosstraining program at Oak Glen Conservation Camp in the San Bernardino National Forest July 7-11.

The training session took place during an interim period between a change-over from a federally subsidized camp for wayward boys to a state institution for adults under the direction of the State Departments of Forestry and of Cor-

In charge of the program were Bill Schneid, law enforcement explorer post adviser, and Sgt. Ron Pfaff, assistant adviser, in cooperation with Michael Schori, division of forestry deputy for activities in Southern Calif-

At Oak Glen the boys were instructed in methods of fire control, fire science, hose lays, arson investigation, and tree and plant indentification.

Their studies involved learning the fundamen-tals of fire - how it starts tals of fire-how it starts as well as how it may be brought under controland practice in cutting a fire line. The Explorer program is chartered by the Boy Scouts of America but is a law enforcement specialty program, Schneid explained. Applicants come from such local cities as Upland, Ontario, Chino, Pomona, Clare-mont, La Verne, West Covina, San Dimas, and Diamond Bar.

About one out of 10 actually pass all the tests. and are accepted as Explorers. The tests are similar to those that prospective police personnel must pass.

Though Explorers may not all go into police work as adults, some who had previously intended to enter another occupation before becoming an Explorer have changed their fore becoming an Explorer have changed their minds, Schneid said.

The program also helps youth to better understand the role of a policeman.

One Explorer, Sgt. Paul Lambert, thought police were rough individuals until he entered this auxiliary police program. Now he realizes a policeman is professional, human, and "concerned about how the average citizen thinks of him." Capt. Gary Kirk, said he learned that the police "are not out there to punish, but to protect."

Scout Ranch Opens

The Circle B Scout Ranch, owned and operated by the Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, opened this year for the fifteenth summer of Scouting adventure and fun. The camp is located in the So. high Sierras in the Kennedy Meadows area near Inyo-

Council Camping Chairman Warren Cliburn stated recently that advance reservations indicate this will be the biggest and busiest summer ever at the camp, with more than 1400 Scouts and Explorers and 50 non-scouts expected to be in attendance.

The camp directors for the summer will be Council staff members Howard Russell of Alta Loma and Darwin Henrie of Pomona. The program director will be Bob Lindboe of Upland. Lindboe is a product of Circle B, having camped there as a boy as well as having been a staff member there for five years.

New program features at Circle B this year will include a complete survival course designed to teach Scouts how to be quickly found if they are lost and a new skeet shooting program using CO2 rifles. Add to these the popular features of swimming, boating, canoeing, bait casting, rifle marksmanship, archery, nature, obstacle course and the many Scoutcraft skills, and it means a great summer of fun and adventure for all.

The highlight of every week at Circle B is the hiking trek into the Circle B backcountry...the beautiful and challenging High Sierras. This year with the tremendous snow load, it will be even better than ever as all streams, and especially the So. Fork of the Kern River, are running at the highest level that local residents can remember. This means better fishing, cooler hiking and more fun for all. A trained program staff of 25 young men and adults work with the Scouts and their leaders as they participate in the camp program. All eat in a spacious dining hall and meals are prepared by professional cooks. If any young men are interested in going to camp, whether they are Scouts or not and are between the ages of 11 to 15, call the Scout Service Center at 626-3552 or 985-3011 and ask for some information on how they can go to camp.

Pomona First Moon Maps Available

A limited number of colored maps of the moon, suitable for tracking the landing of U.S. astro-nauts, are available this week at the seven local offices of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association, president Paul D. Walker announced recently.

The map, two feet tall and three feet wide, includes a chart showing historic data and facts about the moon. It was prepared for the Pomona financial institution by C. S. Hammond & Co., of Maplewood, N.J.

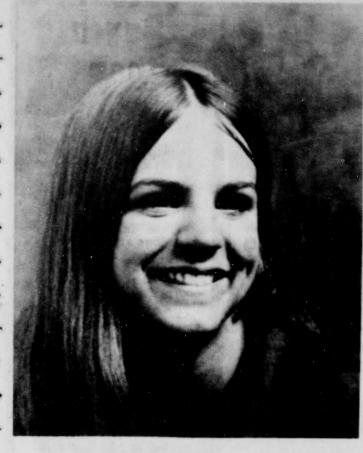

Walker said it will be distributed on a first come basis. There will be no charge for the color reproductions.

Maps will be available in the San Dimas office located at 165 E. Bonita avenue, as well as in Pomona, Claremont, Up-land and Chino offices.

Rival Juvenile Gang Leaders

Former rival juvenile ang members from La Verne and Pomona who made newspaper headlines in the 1940's and early '50's are gathering at the Pomona Elks Club on July 26 at 6 p.m. to honor the man who brought order and dignity into their lives.

Deputy Probation Officer Nino Castaneda will be feted at a dinner dance and barbecue by members of the old gangs-the Vagabonds, Sharkies, Lancers and Cherries, whose former constituents are now respectable citizens and civic leaders.

Castaneda started working with the boys in 1948 as a probation officer assigned to Group Guidance, the Probation Department's delinquency prevention unit during the '40's and '50's. Gang groups in that era were generally known as "zoot suiters" whose members roamed the streets forming a sort of society of their own.

> Replacement of older equipment with the latemodel Douglas DC-9 super' jets has been accompanied by streamlin-ing of passenger handling facilities and procedures, and as a result the ontime performance at Air West's Las Vegas station has been among the highest in the industry.

In June, the Air West staff headed by manager Leo Stec and assistant manager Duke Johnson processed 87 per cent of all flights on schedule. On-time performances at all Air West stations in southern California were equally good. (A good average for the industry is somewhere in the 70s.)

Air West for the first time is operating with an 84-seat configuration on its DC-9 'spaceships', and its passengers now are enjoying the most leg-room offered by any carrier in the United States.
